Inked is the story of an artist who lost her mother to cancer and her family life. Left alone she has to survive without the love, support, and care she always got from her mother. Inked is a puzzle game with unique visual art style and perspective for the players, with emotionally touching story and deeper meaning. It has hand-drawn illustrations, with emotions of existential questions, hope, love, desire, and loss. Inked is different in a way that every solution involves the player to draw a 'line' on the puzzle. And one mistake may be fatal for the future of the game. Inked takes you through a beautifully hand-drawn narrative while being a strategically designed puzzle game. Make your own pieces of art while progressing through the story. Turn the lights off, watch the sun rise or fall behind the clouds. You are in the game the way you want to feel. Key Features: Hand-drawn illustrations with unique art style Intelligent and strategic puzzle design Unique art style Diverse storyline and character development Rage-inducing game-play High production value Do not worry, you are not the first one; the game is officially called Papercraft. Controls: Touchscreen Gamepad Minimum Recommended Spec: Device with widescreen display Android Version: All Android versions are based on a Java Virtual Machine, they run on any kind of Android device. However, most Android phones still cannot run the heavy processing power of a mobile computer such as a tablet. The recommended system requirements are: * 2GB of RAM * Dual core processor * Android 2.2 or higher The initial release of Inked is supported on the following mobile devices: Samsung Galaxy Note Samsung Galaxy S II Samsung Galaxy S III Samsung Galaxy Tab 3 Thank you for buying my game! :) I'm working hard on the sequel to Inked, since then it will be almost ready to be released (in December). Note: You can keep track of my progress on my blog, and the game will be released on December 14th. I've got the following work to do, and you can help me: - Finalizing the characters and the world and adding music - Finishing the background story - Adding the in-game soundtrack - Adding a female character model, a tutorial, and optional tips - Adding new graphics If you want to help me, I would be glad to

of a later application. We read the sentence as stating that, subject to the limitations of rule 23 and section 3 of chapter 156, the county charter confers authority upon the county commissioners to negotiate the terms and conditions of a sale of park land to the borough for the borough's park. This construction is reinforced by rule 35, which provides that "[i]n the absence of a county charter, all powers of the county governaltions are conferred upon the county commissioners." There is no challenge to the validity of the rule, nor is
